

Nikki is the Youth Services Manager at the John Howard Society, where she has worked for several years overseeing and developing programs that support youth and families across York Region. With over eight years of experience in the sector—beginning as a student placement—she has worked extensively with both youth and adults, providing compassionate, informed support.

She holds a degree in Political Science from the University of Guelph and a Social Service Work diploma from Seneca College. Driven by a passion for community building, she is committed to fostering resilient communities through education, awareness, and by breaking down barriers for individuals seeking support.
